Our Lady of Fatima University

Our Lady of Fatima University (OLFU) is one of the finest private universities in the Philippines. The founding stone of the university was laid in 1967 by Jose C. Olivares, a chemistry professor, and his son-in-law, Dr. Vicente M. Santos, an obstetrician, to help the residents of the City of Valenzuela, under the name 'Our Lady of Fatima Hospital'. Within no time, the hospital gained prominence among the local population and became the primary provider of medical services to the residents of Valenzuela and its neighboring towns.

Some of the popular courses offered at OLFU are:

- Bachelor of Secondary Education
- Bachelor of Elementary Education
- Physical Therapy
- Hotel & Restaurant Management
- Computer Science Studies
- Maritime Education
- Criminology

In 1973, Mr. Olivares created the Fatima Medical Science Foundation Inc., and initially established the 'Our Lady of Fatima College of Nursing'. Over the period of time, more and more medical courses were added in the curriculum to expand the reach of the hospital. Some of the important courses included were: courses in Midwifery, Chemistry, and Veterinary Medicine. The motto of the University says, 'Veritas et Misericordia', i.e. Truth and Compassion.

In 2002, the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) granted the College the University status because of its high academic performance over the number of years. Dr. Vicente M. Santos, Sr. was selected as the first president of the University. Because of the University’s excellent track record, the university was granted Deregulated status by the CHED, a privilege given only to selected private universities. It speaks volumes of the status of the Our Lady of Fatima University (OLFU) in the eyes of the public and the Government. In 2009, the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) awarded the University the Autonomous Status for its accomplishments: adherence to quality assurance; commitment to public responsibility, and; accountability as a higher education institution.
Fatima College of Medicine

In 1979, Our Lady of Fatima University (OLFU) started the Fatima College of Medicine with its pilot batch. Professor Filemon T. Gozum, MD, was the founding Dean of the college.
